

NATIONAL TECHNICAL HONOR SOCIETY
CRITERIA FOR NOMINATION

EVERY NOMINEE MUST:

1. Meet all national standards established by the National Technical Honor Society Executive Office.
2. Maintain a record of excellent attendance at the CTE Center. The student must have six or fewer unexcused absences at the end of their junior year to be nominated. Seniors must maintain an excellent attendance record.
(Doctor's excused absences and homeschool absences are considered excused)
3. Maintain an outstanding record of employability skills and demonstrate a high level of achievement in his/her technical area as judged by the CTE teacher. This organization represents academic excellence and the nominee must have an average of 85% or higher at the end of his/her junior year, at both DCMO BOCES and his/her home school. Seniors must maintain an 85% average. A transcript will be provided by the home school district. Special consideration may be given to students whose average falls below 85, but who are taking academically challenging courses. (college level, AP, New Vision)
4. Be actively involved in one of the CTE Center youth leadership organizations, a home school organization, or a community service organization. The student must be able to prove his/her involvement with a certificate or membership card.
5. Must be recommended by a CTE instructor and a homeschool guidance counselor, with no reservations, in accordance with Article V of NTHS Membership, item 6.
6. Plan to pursue a career in a technical area.
7. Submit a typed student statement that summarizes why he/she should be considered for induction into NTHS. A copy of the candidate's resume is required. Student is encouraged to share his/her portfolio during the interview process.
8. Obtain two supporting recommendations by two adults who know the candidate well, preferably an employer or home school teacher, but shall not include any relative or other CTE Center teacher.
9. Successfully complete an interview with the NTHS committee.
10. Have final approval by the administration and other teachers at the Chenango Center.
