Re: Recommendation for Theodore Tubbs

To whom it may concern,

On behalf of the OpenIndiana project (successor of the OpenSolaris UNIX distribution) I would like to commend and recommend, Theodore Tubbs for his assistance with our end user systems documentation efforts.

Throughout 2016, the OpenIndiana project has embarked upon a systems documentation revitalization effort. This process included examining and vetting several different documentation platforms as well as creating demos of each platform.

Theodore assisted our project during several stages by helping us translate existing documentation to a new markup language (markdown) as well as assisting with the actual transition to our final documentation platform (MkDocs). In fact, credit goes to Theodore for introducing us to the MkDocs platform, which we eventually adopted.

Theodore is a very intelligent and capable young man with extensive knowledge of the UNIX and Linux computing platforms. His skills even include fluency in many of the applications available for these systems. I have no doubt he will succeed in his pursuit of increased knowledge through higher education and on the job training.

It has been a real pleasure working with Theodore and I highly recommend him for his skills, knowledge, and technical aptitude.

Sincerely,

Michael Kruger
